Organization name: Project on Middle East Democracy (POMED)
Internship location: Washington DC

About the organization:

The Project on Middle East Democracy (POMED) is a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization dedicated to examining how genuine democracies can develop in the Middle East and how the U.S. can best support that process. Through dialogue, research and advocacy, we work to strengthen the constituency for U.S. policies that peacefully support reform in the Middle East.

About the internship:

Responsibilities vary by position, and descriptions can be found at pomed.org/get-involved. Each position involves substantive research, writing, editing, and policy work related to the Middle East and U.S. policy.

POMED is a fantastic place to work: young, energetic, and extremely substantive. It's a great way to hone interests in U.S. foreign policy and become familiar with the Washington political scene.

Internships available: 3
Credits: Varies
Semester available: Fall (August – December), Spring (January – April)
                      Summer – C (May – July)
